

Better together

by Mecher Anne

The human being can't live alone. We are designed to live with someone near us, because we can't manage to do everything by ourselves. We need love, friends, a family, a group of people, a society. This human need is known since the Stone Age. We through history have done so many good and bad things that helped us to get here, in these modern days. Everything that was, is and will be is the result of collaborating, working and living together. One of these results is Europe.

Europe these days is a continent full of diversity, beautiful history, a lot of different languages, a large number of countries that are all different, heavenly places to visit, the best food in the world, different types of religions, multiculturalism, and here are one of the best kinds of people in the world. Of course it is not perfect but the European Union is trying each day that passes to solve and to make Europe and for its people a better place. Starting from the question that inspired me to write this essay „Do you feel like an EU member?“ the answer is yes but I don't feel like one all the time. The reasons that make me to feel like an EU member are the countries' collaborations, peace between all of us, the human rights, a better democracy than like that from the past or how I call it „the dark times“. I love the fact that I can travel so easily and I have access to health, education, culture and the most important thing, I have the opportunity to meet a lot of different people. I like the fact that the state is helping us with a chance to a better future, an example is a scholarship to an university or a school.

What I don't like about the European Union is the fact that we still struggle with racism, old perceptions and old minded people, hate about someone`s ethnicity and nation which is really bad and sad,the amount of hate towards the immigrants which is the worst because those souls are blamed and hated for no reasons.Why do we have to be defined or judged by our race,nation,ethnicity,gender,or skin color? We should be defined by ourselves,by our actions and by our souls.If we would stop this hate among us and we would start to get along and to embrace every culture,thoughts,race,gender and skin color we would be one.A one beautiful,strong and unite Europe.

In others words,if we would start to get along with eachother,to end this hate between everyone,to understand and help eachother more,to focus on our good parts and actions everything around us will become a better place for us all.If we are better together so Europe is going to be.In this environment, I`m sure that everyone would feel like a proud member of the European Union.
